Notes:

Ginger and Ralph need to be able to take individual classes. These can be found by choosing a category or all classes.

Tom needed to be able to view only weekend classes since he still works during the week.

Once on viewing classes you can again filter by category or all.

Tom was forgetting to sign up for classes, so I added an option to be email when classes are added.

Since there are 3 price tiers I used a drop down to save space on the site. Links take users to price level explanations.
